INTRODUCTION

The Congressional Budget Office (CBO) was created by the Congressional Budget and Impoundment and Control Act of 1974 to provide the Congress with budget-related information and with analyses of alternative fiscal, budgetary, and programmatic policies. CBO began its operations in February 1975 and published its first study in June of that year. All papers published by CBO are available to the general public as well as to the Members of Congress and their staffs.

Copies of CBO publications can be obtained free of charge from CBO's Office of Intergovernmental Relations, unless noted otherwise. To request publications, telephone 202-226-2600 or write to:

Office of Intergovernmental Relations
Congressional Budget Office
House Office Building Annex #2
Second and D Streets, SW
Washington, D. C. 20515

Many CBO publications can be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents at the U.S. Government Printing Office (GPO). For information about exact costs and ordering, telephone 202-275-3030 or write to:

Superintendent of Documents
U.S. Government Printing Office
Washington, D. C. 20402

When ordering publications from GPO, specify the identifying stock numbers shown in these listings.

In addition, the U.S. government depository libraries include many CBO publications in their collections.

This booklet presents CBO's studies in two ways. First, the papers are listed chronologically by date of publication. Second, the papers are categorized into 21 subject areas. The lists include all CBO papers published through early October 1983. Information about papers published after that date can be obtained from the Office of Intergovernmental Relations.

SYMBOLS

The following symbols are used in these lists to identify the availability of CBO publications:
